

Who Made These Tracks?

My track can be 1.8—3.2 inches in length and about 1.5—2.6 inches wide. You may find my tracks around your garden or even around some delicious plants and shrubs you planted in your yard. I'm a herbivore (I eat plants) and one of the largest mammals in Chesterfield County. Who am I?

My hind feet, which are larger than my front feet, can be 3.5 inches long. My smaller front feet are only about 1 inch long. I'm also a herbivore and can be found around your yard and garden. I have keen hearing because of my large ears. I'm a small animal weighting less than 4 pounds. I can run almost 20 mph! Who am I?

My track can be 4 inches long, and I'm one of the largest birds in Chesterfield County. I'm an omnivore (I eat plants and animals) Acorns are one of my favorite food, but I'll eat insect also. I don't like Thanksgiving time. Who am I?

The track of my hind foot can be about 4 inches long, and the track of my front foot can be 2.5 inches long. I'm also an omnivore which means I eat just about anything. I may even visit your garbage can if I smell something delicious inside. I have a ringed tail and some may say I wear a mask. Who am I?
