Announcements

Announcements are important messages Chesterfield County would like relay to the user (messages such as upcoming holiday closures, business hour changes, code revisions, etc.).

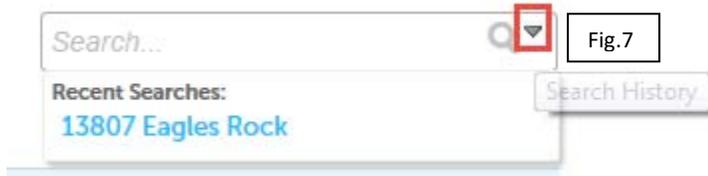

Searching

The system will refer to “records”. A record can be a permit, application, license, site visit, complaint or a service request etc. Searching the online database records can be performed in different ways, but the easiest method is to use the Global Search (Fig. 6), located in the top right area of the screen.

Use the Global Search feature by inputting a record or permit number, address, owner, project name, etc. This will return all matching results from the database, regardless of the department originating the record.

Another useful feature of the Global Search is easy accessibility of recent searches. Hover (placing the mouse) over the down-facing arrow to see your recent entries (Fig. 7).

Create Collections

Create collections of records for easy accessibility. For example, a project with multiple permits can have all related records viewable in one “collection” or you might want to group permits by type or address. After logging in, your collections are accessible at the top of every screen.

1. Log in to your account.
2. Records associated to your account will be shown in a list.
3. Use the checkboxes on the left to select the records you want to group into a collection.
4. Under “eReview” in the title bar, click “Add to Collection”.
5. Enter a name for your group of records and a description if desired, or choose an existing collection from the drop down menu.
6. Click the “Add” button to create and submit the records into the new collection.
7. After selecting a specific collection, a useful overview of the records will be displayed in the Collection.

View your Records

In the list of your records that display (Fig. 8), basic record information is provided: Date submitted, Record number (link will open the record), Record Type, Detailed Description, Project Name, Status, and Action. The Action link will allow you to continue submission of a record in progress.
